DULUTH NEWS TRIBUNE REPORT AS GIVEN SUNDAY

"UNDER GENERAL ROAD APPROPRIATION, ANTICIPATED $1,000,000 SET ASIDE"

"TO BE USED REMODELING THE BRAINERD BACK SHOPS OF N. P. RAILWAY"

The Brainerd Dispatch, in general with newspapers throughout the state, received copy of news matter from the Northern Pacific railway company, announcing $46,500,000 program of expenditures in 1929 for roadway, building equipment maintenance, roadway and building improvements, and new equipment. In this two-page story there was no mention of Brainerd shops.

Sunday the Duluth News Tribune gave a record in detail supplied by George Jacobus, division superintendent, as to the expenditure of $140,000 in improvement in Twin Ports, and including this paragraph:

"Under the general road appropriation it is anticipated that $1,000,000 has been set aside for remodeling the Brainerd back shops of the Northern Pacific to make them the most modern in the northwest. These shops are used in tearing down and rebuilding locomotives."

Inquiry at the shops headquarters here elicited no information as to this statement made in the Duluth News Tribune and efforts will be made to get an authoritative statement from the general offices at St. Paul.

$46,500,000 Program of N. P.

The $46,500,000 program of the Northern Pacific contemplates making of large expenditures at many points between St. Paul-Minneapolis and Duluth on the east end and Seattle-Tacoma on the west.

The program follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Roadway and building maintenance | $14,000,000 |
| Equipment maintenance | 15,000,000 |
| Roadway and building improvements | 10,000,000 |
| New equipment | 6,000,000 |
| Work carried over from 1928 | 1,500,000 |
| Total | $46,500,000 |

The roadway and building maintenance program calls for the laying of new ballast which, with the necessary widening of cuts, it is estimated will cost $1,500,000. About 230 miles of ballast will be placed in 1929, of which 125 miles will be washed ballast. By the close of 1929 a total of 1,020 miles of washed ballast will cover the roadway, improving its riding qualities and making it virtually dustless.

The Northern Pacific has been carrying on a program of relaying its steel rails, substituting for the lighter rail the heavier 100 and 130-pounds material. In 1929 the plan is to lay about 125 miles of the heavier rail at a cost of $2,700,000. By the end of 1929 the total new rail laid within the last six years will be 976 miles.

The plans for expenditures call also for an outlay of $200,000 for 70 miles of rail welding in sections scattered all over the system. This is a process of welding the joints to make the track smoother and the trains ride more quietly. Bridge building outlined will cost $3,000,000; improvements to telephone and telegraph lines, $300,000; betterments to freight and passenger buildings, $300,000; improvements to equipment, $1,500,000; $100,000 for improvement of water supply; and $60,000 for improved electrical highway crossing signal protection at various points along the system.

Large expenditures are planned in Minnesota. About $700,000 of the ballast work will be carried on in this state.

Two projects in St. Paul are included. One is an expenditure of $36,000 for a new bridge across Maryland Street on the line between St. Paul and Minneapolis. A heavier structure is proposed to accommodate the heavier business. The Mississippi Street round-house in St. Paul is scheduled for enlargements to cost $40,000.

In Minneapolis a $40,000 item is construction of a new building at Northtown to be a locomotive boiler washing plant.

At the head of the lakes, Duluth-Superior, expenditure of $90,000 is proposed for additional tracks in the terminals of the two cities, and $50,000 additional for enlarging the round-house at Duluth.

About 10 miles of the rail welding operations is proposed in Minnesota near Duluth.

Duluth News Tribune Report

The Duluth News Tribune report as published Sunday is herewith given in full:

An expenditure of approximately $140,000 will be made by the Northern Pacific railroad this year for improving and enlarging equipment at the Twin Ports, it was announced last night by George Jacobus, division superintendent.

Announcement of the Duluth division improvement program followed closely upon word from St. Paul that the Northern Pacific would launch a $46,500,000 program of expenditure in 1929 for roadway building and equipment maintenance.

At the Head of the Lakes the road plans to expend $50,000 on improvement to the Duluth round-house. Plans for the construction program include extending six locomotive stalls at a cost of $30,000, building pits under these stalls and improving the machine shops at a cost of $20,000.

These improvements were made necessary, says Mr. Jacobus, by the enlarging of the present types of locomotives. Improvements to this roundhouse will bring it to a par with any similar equipment in the northwest, declared Mr. Jacobus.

Additional trackage will be placed at the West Duluth yards of the company at a cost of $30,000 and five tracks will be added to the Superior terminal and five to the Hill avenue yards, East End, Superior. A water tank will be built at the Superior East End yards. This program is estimated at $90,000.

Under the general road appropriation it is anticipated that $1,000,000 has been set aside for remodeling the Brainerd back shops of the Northern Pacific to make them the most modern in the northwest. These shops are used in tearing down and rebuilding locomotives.

The entire Northern Pacific program follows: roadway and building maintenance, $14,000,000; equipment maintenance, $15,000,000; roadway and building improvements, $10,000,000; new equipment, $6,000,000, and work carried over from 1928, $1,500,000.

HOOVER PAYS HONORS TO THE WIZARD EDISON

PRESIDENT-ELECT GOES TO FORT MYERS, FLA., ON PILGRIMAGE

OCCASION WAS 82ND BIRTHDAY OF THOMAS A. EDISON

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 11. — The next president of the United States paid honor today to the wizard of American invention.

Herbert Hoover, who soon will assume the responsibilities of presidency, came here on a pilgrimage. The occasion was the eighty-second birthday of Thomas A. Edison.

The inventor's chief guest today was elected to the presidency in a campaign that had as one of its slogans, "happy homes." Edison lighted the American parlor more brightly and enlivened it by placing a phonograph on the center table.

The kinship of the two is a common association in the amazing industrial era which gave the United States and subsequently the rest of the world that complex modern civilization which is called "the machine age."

That kinship extends likewise to other guests at the aged inventor's birthday party—Henry Ford, whom Edison once employed and Harvey Firestone, the tire manufacturer.

The aged inventor, still young in spirit in the pursuit of new endeavor, took a day off from his experiments here in the cultivation of rubber substitutes to enjoy himself with his friends.

After the birthday luncheon, the inventor was to show Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and his other guests over the ten-acre plantation where he is growing every variety of plant from which rubber can be secured. The aim of his experiments is to find a plant that can be cultivated in this country as a means of breaking the British rubber monopoly, a venture which is being financed by Ford and Firestone.

Hoover likewise is keenly interested in the problem and as secretary of commerce sponsored moves designed to shake this country free from the British monopoly.

Under original plans, the president-elect was to return to his yacht during the afternoon and sail away on a fishing expedition down the west coast but it was learned that Edison may invite him to stay and say a few words over the radio in the time allotted to him for his talk.

The Edison birthday program will occupy an hour, 8:30 to 9:30 tonight, and will include besides the inventor's address a talk by his son and rendering of his favorite song, "I'll take you home again, Kathleen."

AUTO ACCIDENTS CAUSE DEATH OF 3 MINNESOTANS

SEVERAL OTHER PERSONS SERIOUSLY INJURED OVER THE WEEK-END

MAL BRANCH HAS HEAD FRACTURED IN ST. PAUL WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Automobile accidents caused the death of three Minnesotans over the week-end and prompted the suicide of one distraught youth, a check-up here revealed today.

Several other persons were seriously injured.

Harold Christian, 21, Minneapolis, shot himself to death early today in the mistaken belief that his sweetheart, Miss Ida Hedlund, 19, had been killed in an automobile crash. The act was said to have been prompted when Christian saw his fiancee unconscious in the wreckage of the car and believed her dead. She was taken to general hospital, seriously injured.

John Patrick Leahy, Jr., 15, was killed in Minneapolis Saturday night when the sleigh in which he was riding with 14 other school boys was struck by an automobile. The accident was declared accidental.

The body of Mrs. Henrietta Elliott, 34, Dilworth, was found on U. S. highway No. 10, between her home and Moorhead. Larry L. Courneya, Fargo, reported to have said that his automobile struck something along the same route Sunday, was held for questioning.

Charles E. Sneye, 78, Minneapolis, died in general hospital from injuries received Feb. 1.

Among the more seriously injured was Mal Branch, 40, St. Paul, whose skull was fractured here early today when he was struck by an automobile.

SETS MARK OF OVER 17 HOURS' FLYING

DRIVES HER PLANE THROUGH DARKNESS FOR PERIOD OF 12 HOURS

POSSIBLE ALSO THAT SHE BROKE DISTANCE RECORD BY ENGINES OF 60 H. P.

Los Angeles, Feb. 11. — (UP) — Miss Bobby Trout, after flying more than 17 hours to break all world endurance flight records for women, landed here today at 10:16:22 A. M.

The best previous time was 13 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds.

In her flight which started at Mines Field last night Miss Trout also established a new night sustained flight record for women. She drove her plane through darkness for a period of 12 hours. The best previous night flying mark for women was eight hours.

It is possible that Miss Trout also broke the distance record for planes motored by engines of 60 horse power.

The distance the 18-year-old aviatrix traveled could not be announced officially for some time, but it was to be certain that she broke the previous 932-mile mark for a 60 horse power plane.

She appeared in good condition, despite the long grind of the flight.

"I was pretty tired last night," she said after she landed. "I guess it was a good thing it was cold as the devil at 5,000 feet or I'd probably have gone to sleep."

Miss Trout made an expert, although almost a dead stick landing when she touched Mines Field. The 80 gallons of gasoline she carried on the trip had been almost entirely consumed.

Mrs. Lola Trout, her mother, embraced Miss Trout and called her a "wonderful baby." Mrs. Trout remained at the field throughout the night.

Mines Field, Los Angeles, Feb. 11. —(UP)—Overcoming cold and darkness to establish a new women's record for night flying, Miss Bobby Trout, 18-year-old Los Angeles aviatrix, remained aloft today in an attempt to regain the women's endurance flight record which she lost a few weeks ago.

The courageous girl-flyer began her 10th hour of continuous flying at 2:10:45 A. M. today. She must remain aloft until 10 A. M. to set a new record.

The present record of 14 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds is held by Eleanor Smith, New York.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST DISORDER IN OLD MEXICO

DISTURBED WEEK-END RECORDS WRECKING OF PRES. GIL'S SPECIAL TRAIN

ANOTHER PASSENGER TRAIN IS DYNAMITED, BOMB FOUND IN POLITICIAN'S OFFICE

Mexico City, Feb. 11.—(UP) — Stringent precautions against disorder were taken by the government today after a disturbed week-end in Mexico during which the special train of President Emilio Portes Gil was wrecked by a bomb, another passenger train was dynamited and a bomb was discovered in the office of Aaron Saenz, political leader.

The happenings came within 24 hours of the execution of Jose De Leon Toral, whose funeral caused disturbances in which at least three were killed and more than 30 injured.

President Portes Gil, with his wife and baby daughter, reached the capital safely at 1:20 A. M. on a heavily guarded train.

The attempt on his life was made at 7 A. M. yesterday between Comonfort and Rinconcillo in the state of San Luis Potosi. The president was returning from Tamaulipas to Mexico City.

The presidential train, one of the most luxurious in the world, was wrecked by a bomb as it approached a bridge. The engine and first two cars were wrecked but the car carrying the president remained on the rails.

Troops were called at once and began an extensive search for the perpetrators, with orders to execute summarily any they caught.

Meanwhile, police announced at midnight that an unexploded bomb had been found in the office of Aaron Saenz, a leading candidate for the six-year term for president.

The capital had quieted down during the night after demonstrations during the funeral of Toral, assassin of President-elect Obregon. Police made 34 arrests.

Injured persons were treated in hospitals.

The pilot train accompanying the president to the capital brought the body of Augustine Martinez, fireman of the presidential train, only death victim of the wreck. Those in the first two coaches, carrying government and railway officials, were shaken and bruised.

News of the dynamiting of the other train was contained in a dispatch from Guadalajara, but details were lacking. A relief train was sent from Guadalajara.

TAXES, HIGHWAYS, GASOLINE TAX, CIGARET BILL

HOUSE ADJOURNS TO WEDNESDAY, SENATE MAY NOT HAVE QUORUM TONIGHT

JOINT COMMITTEE IS TO CONDUCT HEARINGS ON REFORESTATION

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—Out of a deluge of bills which have been poured into the state legislative hopper since the beginning of the 1929 session, four measures stood out prominently today as the house and senate prepared to enter into the sixth week.

Reforestation, including relief to tax burdened northern counties; highway construction and maintenance; gasoline tax diversion, and a cigaret tax bill, claimed the attention of the legislature at the nearly half-way mark.

Little was expected to be done today. The house was adjourned until Wednesday and the senate was not likely to have a quorum tonight despite the warnings sounded before the week-end recess by Lieut. Gov. Nolan. Nearly a score of senators had been granted excuses from the session tonight and others indicated that they might not return until after Lincoln's birthday, Tuesday.

At any rate solons will settle down to serious consideration of the measures before them on Wednesday evening. A joint committee of reforestation will conduct public hearings then on the recommendations of the Minnesota reforestation commission, while a joint sub-committee will consider the tax delinquent problem which has arisen in Beltrami and Lake of the Woods counties.

Highway proposals, meanwhile, will be discussed informally by leaders who seek to effect a compromise between advocates of a 4-cent gasoline tax, the $20,000,0000 bond issue, and the county bond reimbursement plan.

Senator Chris Rosenmeier has assumed the role of peacemaker between the various factions and it is believed that he with other leaders will bring order out of the present confusion.

Diversion of the county's share of the state gasoline tax fund is expected to be something of a problem. Legislators from Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth contend that since their districts pay the lion's share of the tax they should receive a larger refund than smaller counties.

On Thursday evening a public hearing will be conducted on the proposed cigaret tax bill introduced by Rep. Roy Dunn, Pelican Rapids. Hundreds of persons have already signified their opposition to the proposed 2-cent tax on cigarets and 1-cent tax on cigaret papers by sending petitions to the capitol. The hearing is expected to be one of the hottest of the present session.

AUTO ACCIDENTS CAUSE DEATH OF 3 MINNESOTANS

SEVERAL OTHER PERSONS SERIOUSLY INJURED OVER THE WEEK-END

MAL BRANCH HAS HEAD FRACTURED IN ST. PAUL WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Automobile accidents caused the death of three Minnesotans over the week-end and prompted the suicide of one distraught youth, a check-up here revealed today.

Several other persons were seriously injured.

Harold Christian, 21, Minneapolis, shot himself to death early today in the mistaken belief that his sweetheart, Miss Ida Hedlund, 19, had been killed in an automobile crash. The act was said to have been prompted when Christian saw his fiancee unconscious in the wreckage of the car and believed her dead. She was taken to general hospital, seriously injured.

John Patrick Leahy, Jr., 15, was killed in Minneapolis Saturday night when the sleigh in which he was riding with 14 other school boys was struck by an automobile. The accident was declared accidental.

The body of Mrs. Henrietta Elliott, 34, Dilworth, was found on U. S. highway No. 10, between her home and Moorhead. Larry L. Courneya, Fargo, reported to have said that his automobile struck something along the same route Sunday, was held for questioning.

Charles E. Sneye, 78, Minneapolis, died in general hospital from injuries received Feb. 1.

Among the more seriously injured was Mal Branch, 40, St. Paul, whose skull was fractured here early today when he was struck by an automobile.

SETS MARK OF OVER 17 HOURS' FLYING

DRIVES HER PLANE THROUGH DARKNESS FOR PERIOD OF 12 HOURS

POSSIBLE ALSO THAT SHE BROKE DISTANCE RECORD BY ENGINES OF 60 H. P.

Los Angeles, Feb. 11. — (UP) — Miss Bobby Trout, after flying more than 17 hours to break all world endurance flight records for women, landed here today at 10:16:22 A. M.

The best previous time was 13 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds.

In her flight which started at Mines Field last night Miss Trout also established a new night sustained flight record for women. She drove her plane through darkness for a period of 12 hours. The best previous night flying mark for women was eight hours.

It is possible that Miss Trout also broke the distance record for planes motored by engines of 60 horse power.

The distance the 18-year-old aviatrix traveled could not be announced officially for some time, but it was to be certain that she broke the previous 932-mile mark for a 60 horse power plane.

She appeared in good condition, despite the long grind of the flight.

"I was pretty tired last night," she said after she landed. "I guess it was a good thing it was cold as the devil at 5,000 feet or I'd probably have gone to sleep."

Miss Trout made an expert, although almost a dead stick landing when she touched Mines Field. The 80 gallons of gasoline she carried on the trip had been almost entirely consumed.

Mrs. Lola Trout, her mother, embraced Miss Trout and called her a "wonderful baby." Mrs. Trout remained at the field throughout the night.

Mines Field, Los Angeles, Feb. 11. — (U.P.) — Overcoming cold and darkness to establish a new women's record for night flying, Miss Bobby Trout, 18-year-old Los Angeles aviatrix, remained aloft today in an attempt to regain the women's endurance flight record which she lost a few weeks ago.

The courageous girl-flyer began her 10th hour of continuous flying at 2:10:45 A. M. today. She must remain aloft until 10 A. M. to set a new record.

The present record of 14 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds is held by Eleanor Smith, New York.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST DISORDER IN OLD MEXICO

DISTURBED WEEK-END RECORDS WRECKING OF PRES. GIL'S SPECIAL TRAIN

ANOTHER PASSENGER TRAIN IS DYNAMITED, BOMB FOUND IN POLITICIAN'S OFFICE

Mexico City, Feb. 11.—(UP) — Stringent precautions against disorder were taken by the government today after a disturbed week-end in Mexico during which the special train of President Emilio Portes Gil was wrecked by a bomb, another passenger train was dynamited and a bomb was discovered in the office of Aaron Saenz, political leader.

The happenings came within 24 hours of the execution of Jose De Leon Toral, whose funeral caused disturbances in which at least three were killed and more than 30 injured.

President Portes Gil, with his wife and baby daughter, reached the capital safely at 1:20 A. M. on a heavily guarded train.

The attempt on his life was made at 7 A. M. yesterday between Comonfort and Rinconcillo in the state of San Luis Potosi. The president was returning from Tamaulipas to Mexico City.

The presidential train, one of the most luxurious in the world, was wrecked by a bomb as it approached a bridge. The engine and first two cars were wrecked but the car carrying the president remained on the rails.

Troops were called at once and began an extensive search for the perpetrators, with orders to execute summarily any they caught.

Meanwhile, police announced at midnight that an unexploded bomb had been found in the office of Aaron Saenz, a leading candidate for the six-year term for president.

The capital had quieted down during the night after demonstrations during the funeral of Toral, assassin of President-elect Obregon. Police made 34 arrests.

Injured persons were treated in hospitals.

The pilot train accompanying the president to the capital brought the body of Augustine Martinez, fireman of the presidential train, only death victim of the wreck. Those in the first two coaches, carrying government and railway officials, were shaken and bruised.

News of the dynamiting of the other train was contained in a dispatch from Guadalajara, but details were lacking. A relief train was sent from Guadalajara.

TAXES, HIGHWAYS, GASOLINE TAX, CIGARET BILL

HOUSE ADJOURNS TO WEDNESDAY, SENATE MAY NOT HAVE QUORUM TONIGHT

JOINT COMMITTEE IS TO CONDUCT HEARINGS ON REFORESTATION

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—Out of a deluge of bills which have been poured into the state legislative hopper since the beginning of the 1929 session, four measures stood out prominently today as the house and senate prepared to enter into the sixth week.

Reforestation, including relief to tax burdened northern counties; highway construction and maintenance; gasoline tax diversion, and a cigaret tax bill, claimed the attention of the legislature at the nearly half-way mark.

Little was expected to be done today. The house was adjourned until Wednesday and the senate was not likely to have a quorum tonight despite the warnings sounded before the week-end recess by Lieut. Gov. Nolan. Nearly a score of senators had been granted excuses from the session tonight and others indicated that tfiey might not return until after Lincoln's birthday, Tuesday.

At any rate solons will settle down to serious consideration of the measures before them on Wednesday evening. A joint committee of reforestation will conduct public hearings then on the recommendations of the Minnesota reforestation commission, while a joint sub-committee will consider the tax delinquent problem which has arisen in Beltrami and Lake of the Woods counties.

Highway proposals, meanwhile, will be discussed informally by leaders who seek to effect a compromise between advocates of a 4-cent gasoline tax, the $20,000,0000 bond issue, and the county bond reimbursement plan.

Senator Chris Rosenmeier has assumed the role of peacemaker between the various factions and it is believed that he with other leaders will bring order out of the present confusion.

Diversion of the county's share of the state gasoline tax fund is expected to be something of a problem. Legislators from Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth contend that since their districts pay the lion's share of the tax they should receive a larger refund than smaller counties.

On Thursday evening a public hearing will be conducted on the proposed cigaret tax bill introduced by Rep. Roy Dunn, Pelican Rapids. Hundreds of persons have already signified their opposition to the proposed 2-cent tax on cigarets and 1-cent tax on cigaret papers by sending petitions to the capitol. The hearing is expected to be one of the hottest of the present session.

MRS. E. J. QUINN NEW PRESIDENT

Elected at Saturday Meeting of Brainerd Musical Club

MUSICAL CLUB PROGRAM

Splendid Audience Hears Choral Club Demonstrate Modernistic Music

The Brainerd Musical club, at its annual election Saturday afternoon, elected these officers.

President—Mrs. E. J. Quinn.

First Vice President — Mrs. Levi Johnson.

Second Vice President—Mrs. G. D. LaBar.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. W. Bane.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. T. E. Jones.

Treasurer—Mrs. G. H. Stone.

Assistant Treasurer — Miss W. V. Small.

Directors for three years — Mesdames A. K. Cohen, W. H. Cleary and W. C. Cobb.

The audience that greeted the entertainers on the Musical club home talent program was not quite a capacity house—but near it.

The Choral club opened the program with that thrilling chorus from Aida, "Glory to Isis." In spite of the lack of basses and in spite of the fact that some members of the audience had heard this number given recently over the radio by the Chicago Civic Opera Company, it was sung with such verve and such a true conception of operatic ensemble that the lack of numbers or of balance wasn't noticeable. That this number 'registered' with the audience was shown by the enthusiastic applause that greeted it.

The second number of this operatic group by the Choral club was a selection from the popular opera "Martra." This consisted of solo and chorus—the solo being "The Last Rose of Summer," sung by Mrs. J. H. Krekelberg. But it wasn't the number made famous by Patti. This was a modernistic arrangement written in very close harmony and it made an interesting innovation.

This group closed with a number written in the old-fashioned open harmony, the delightful "Butterfly," from Coppelia. Interest was added to this group of opera selections by the synopses given by the Choral club director, Miss Effie Drexler.

The pupils of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, Edythe Brandt, of Pillager, Virginia Halliday, of Staples, and Bernice LeMire, of Pequot, all did themselves and their teacher great credit. In fact, they did so well that they didn't sound like amateurs at all.

If we hadn't known, we should have put them in the professional class. Miss LeMire's rendition of the very difficult "Intermezzo in Octaves," by Leschetizky, was so brilliant that the president, Mrs. John J. Cummins, felt impelled to give it 'honorable mention.' But each and every number deserved such distinction.

The genuine applause which greeted the appearance of Miss Cora Rickard showed what the audience expect from her—and it was not disappointed. Miss Rickard's mellow contralto was especially pleasing in her last number—"My Sweet Love Call," from the Indian Flute Song.

One other number by the Choral club deserves special comment—"The Lorely," by Liszt. Although scarcely recognizable when spelled with a y instead of an i, the audience was delighted to find that this was the same old alluring siren whose sweet singing and eternal combing of her golden hair lured the Rhine boatmen to their doom. The lovely harmony in this number also lures an audience, and it was exquisitely done.

The two closing numbers were accompanied by both violin and piano. Miss Geraldine Kiebler played the violin obligato in her usual pleasing and capable manner.

Too much credit cannot be given the leader of the Choral club, Miss Effie Drexler, and the accompanist, Mrs. Louis Knudsen for the success of this program. They both possess genuine musicianship and give of their talent to the limit of their strength.

Elected at Saturday Meeting of Brainerd Musical Club

MUSICAL CLUB PROGRAM

Splendid Audience Hears Choral Club Demonstrate Modernistic Music

The Brainerd Musical club, at its annual election Saturday afternoon, elected these officers.

President—Mrs. E. J. Quinn.

First Vice President — Mrs. Levi Johnson.

Second Vice President—Mrs. G. D. LaBar.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. W. Bane.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. T. E. Jones.

Treasurer—Mrs. G. H. Stone.

Assistant Treasurer — Miss W. V. Small.

Directors for three years — Mesdames A. K. Cohen, W. H. Cleary and W. C. Cobb.

The audience that greeted the entertainers on the Musical club home talent program was not quite a capacity house—but near it.

The Choral club opened the program with that thrilling chorus from Aida, "Glory to Isis." In spite of the lack of basses and in spite of the fact that some members of the audience had heard this number given recently over the radio by the Chicago Civic Opera Company, it was sung with such verve and such a true conception of operatic ensemble that the lack of numbers or of balance wasn't noticeable. That this number 'registered' with the audience was shown by the enthusiastic applause that greeted it.

The second number of this operatic group by the Choral club was a selection from the popular opera "Martra." This consisted of solo and chorus—the solo being "The Last Rose of Summer," sung by Mrs. J. H. Krekelberg. But it wasn't the number made famous by Patti. This was a modernistic arrangement written in very close harmony and it made an interesting innovation.

This group closed with a number written in the old-fashioned open harmony, the delightful "Butterfly," from Coppelia. Interest was added to this group of opera selections by the synopses given by the Choral club director, Miss Effie Drexler.

The pupils of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, Edythe Brandt, of Pillager, Virginia Halliday, of Staples, and Bernice LeMire, of Pequot, all did themselves and their teacher great credit. In fact, they did so well that they didn't sound like amateurs at all.

If we hadn't known, we should have put them in the professional class. Miss LeMire's rendition of the very difficult "Intermezzo in Octaves," by Leschetizky, was so brilliant that the president, Mrs. John J. Cummins, felt impelled to give it 'honorable mention.' But each and every number deserved such distinction.

The genuine applause which greeted the appearance of Miss Cora Rickard showed what the audience expect from her—and it was not disappointed. Miss Rickard's mellow contralto was especially pleasing in her last number—"My Sweet Love Call," from the Indian Flute Song.

One other number by the Choral club deserves special comment—"The Lorely," by Liszt. Although scarcely recognizable when spelled with a y instead of an i, the audience was delighted to find that this was the same old alluring siren whose sweet singing and eternal combing of her golden hair lured the Rhine boatmen to their doom. The lovely harmony in this number also lures an audience, and it was exquisitely done.

The two closing numbers were accompanied by both violin and piano. Miss Geraldine Kiebler played the violin obligato in her usual pleasing and capable manner.

Too much credit cannot be given the leader of the Choral club, Miss Effie Drexler, and the acocmpanist, Mrs. Louis Knudsen for the success of this program. They both possess genuine musicianship and give of their talent to the limit of their strength.

Take that dirty ring out of your bathtub!

AFTER a bath, hard water leaves a dirty ring. The soap combines with the hardness and makes scum. The scum collects dirt. The dirty ring sticks to the sides of the bathtub. It has to be scrubbed off.

But soften the water with Melo and there isn't any dirty ring on your bathtub. Melo makes water delightfully soft and a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. Use Melo wherever you want soft water. Get it at your grocer's.

THE REAL LINCOLN

THERE has been a more or less consistent effort in the last few years to "debunk" our idealized national heroes, and to get at the real human things beneath, says the Minneapolis Journal editorially. Popular interest has perhaps centered in the case of Washington, being stirred to violent protest by some things in Rupert Hughes' frank biography, but the more recent discussions of Lincoln have been moved by the same purpose.

It is hardly necessary to say that neither Washington nor Lincoln has suffered in the process. The more nearly we approach to an understanding of the actual lives of these great men, the more we appreciate the difficulties which they overcame and the service which they rendered to humanity. They were not demigods, but plain men, with a fair share of human weakness and liability to error. The fulsome idolatry with which a more sentimental generation looked upon them was as unwholesome as it was futile.

No one can read Carl Sandburg's magnificent Prairie Years and trace the growth of the awkward country lawyer into the statesman, without a greater reverence for Lincoln than the unctuous exaggerations of sentimental biographers and campaign orators ever awakened.

Yet it must not be forgotten that the true measure of any man is not to be found in the bare facts of his actual life. It is to be found rather in his impact upon the world, in the influence he exerts long after his work is finished and he himself has passed to his reward. The idealizing tendency of the human imagination after all seizes upon the salient features of its heroes, upon the only things in their personality which really count.

The foibles and human frailties which linked them to the common lot were but accidents. It was the will and purpose within them, the strength and tenacity, the clearness of vision and soundness of judgment in which they excelled their fellows, which lifted them above the crowd and made them leaders. When all has been said, Washington still was the Father of his Country, as Lincoln was its savior.

The real Lincoln was not the awkward lout, the country lawyer, the teller of questionable stories, but rather the patient, kindly, deep-hearted man whose mind, working slowly at times, still had power to grasp the essential issues of the irrepressible conflict; whose will was strong enough to give mastery, in the end, of the really big men in his Cabinet; whose heart was big enough to take the South as well as the North into his sympathies; whose patient strength kept him steady and unbreakable under the long burden of the struggle; whose character and personality loom the higher above the greatest of his contemporaries the farther we recede from him.

It is not an accident that the imagination of later times has found in him the ideal of American democracy; in a far truer sense than Pitt, "the Great Commoner," and, taken all in all, what Lowell declared him, "The First American."

A "WHITE ELEPHANT" STORY REFUTED

IN a recent issue of a St. Cloud paper there is quoted an article that appeared there in 40 years ago, stating:

"Brainerd has a white elephant on its hands. It is white because it is arc light. The city bought the electric light plant and assumed the $40,000 debt thereon. An incandescent dynamo was then put in and other improvements made to the extent of $18,000, the whole costing $58,000. It will cost about $10,000 besides interest on the bonds to operate the works. The income is about $6,000. Interest is due, but there is no money to pay it. Hence the arc light elephant."

Then, presto, note the change.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBELINE married Quinn Holden, young and handsome Texas minister, shortly after Lilith, his first wife, died, leaving an infant Lilith. Irene, secretly in love with Guinn, had seen him practically snatched away by the beautiful blonde and coquettish Lilith, who had boasted of her ability to make Guinn propose to her. Instead of the love that Irene expected to enjoy to complete her happiness, she found always the unseen barrier of the dead Lilith haunting Holden's mind and enthroned in his heart. He spoiled the child, granting her every wish and fancy. Even when Irene's child came he referred to her as "Lilith's little sister." This was Tina, who grows up a dark-eyed, lovely child, sweet and thoughtful, but conscious of her secondary position to the beautiful Lilith in her father's heart. Irene ponders this poignant problem that has persisted during the years of marriage to Holden. Even Ross and Lundy, the boys, and little Patricia, the youngest, were similarly regarded by their father. How to supplant this "golden ghost" of the glorious dead Lilith was made doubly difficult because of the grown-up Lilith, who had not only her mother's beauty, but greater intellect to support her selfish desires and strengthen her hold on her father's affection. Graduated from college, Lilith tells her father she wishes to study voice in New York. Tina, too, wants to pursue an art course. "Lilith is the older," the father would reply when Irene remonstrated. Tina, however, was the favorite of Will Lundy, town doctor, who had been in love with Irene.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Anything to keep Sheba in a passable humor till the strange young men were out of the house. If she were pushed too far she migh blow up in the dining room and disgrace the family.

As Sheba stalked back to the kitchen, straight as an Indian and clucking like a wrathful setting hen, Guinn drove up in his car and went to his study. The group from the lawn moved toward the porch. Tina was first, with Roger Devereaux, while Lilith strolled behind, squired by the other three young men.

Tina spoke eagerly as soon as she reached the porch. "Mother, what do you think? Roger's going to give Lilith a house party. He wants me to come, too. Isn't that great? May I go?"

Irene smiled at the two. "I don't see any reason why you shouldn't, Tina. I think that's awfully nice of Roger."

Lilith leaned against a porch pillar, her face framed against a tracery of star-jasmine vines, making a lovely vignette.

"I don't know whether she would care so much for it or not," she said lightly. "The others will be older, Roger's classmates or mine."

Tina's eyes showed the hurt she felt. "I think it would be loads of fun. Am I too young, Roger?" She stood on tiptoe to show how tall she was.

"Not a bit of it!" He spoke heartily, but his eyes showed a shadow of uneasiness as he glanced at Lilith, fearful of her disapproval.

Lilith spoke smoothly. "We don't have to decide it today, do we? We can think over the list of guests tomorrow, shan't we, Roger? You said this was to be my party, you know."

She smiled, throwing deliberate bedazzlement into her glance.

His eyes lighted with eagerness at her graciousness to him. "Sure, it's your party. But we want Tina, too, don't we?"

Lilith hesitated the merest fraction of a second, and that pause saved her the necessity for replying. Her father came out on the porch and said jovially, "Do you young folks want to be witnesses at a wedding?"

"Yes," the young men chorused. Lilith smiled her negligent smile, and Tina was silent, all the radiance gone from her face.

"An eloping couple will be here in a minute. They 'phoned they didn't have time to bring any witnesses."

"Do witnesses get fees, as in court?" jested Roger.

"No, it's a public service to help folks get married."

Guinn threw in affectionate arm about Tina's shoulder. "What's my girl so quiet about?"

This rare demonstration from him would usually have made her eyes sparkle with happiness, but now they were wistful.

"Oh, nothing. Just the heat. I'll go make some iced lemonade."

As she passed into the house, her eyes avoided Lilith's eyes that were as serene as ever.

Irene's whole body flushed with indignation. The utter selfishness of Lilith! Tina should go to that house party if Roger really wanted her. She shouldn't be snubbed in this fashion, even if the matter had to be referred to her father.

Like a flash of memory came back the scene in the study when the girls were little—when Tina had been sketching Dan Ripley, and Lilith had carried him off with her. She couldn't bear to see anyone pay any attention to Tina, whether she cared in the least for that person or not. . . .

She went back to the kitchen to lend a hand to Sheba. The totem pole was humped over the ice-cream freezer, singing as she turned the handle rhythmically.

"'God took a rib out o' Adam's side,
And made a woman, a woman, a woman.
My Lawd God, a woman!
"'Eve she had no clothes to wear,
Took a fig leaf to hide her nakedness, to hide her nakedness, to hide her nakedness.
My Lawd God, to hide her nakedness!'"

"Naw, Sheba, you got that wrong," came a voice from the doorway, and Irene looked up to see Miss Mattie standing there with an angel-cake in her hands. Miss Mattie always brought something good to eat when there was company. "She's not a rib. Woman's a wish-bone. Always wishing for something—generally love, of one kind or other."

"And where's any fig leaves to hide her heart's nakedness?" went on Miss Mattie.

"Oh, there's philosophy and pride, and a sense of humor," suggested Irene. "Style in fig leaves changes from year to year. Once it was sentimentality, and now it's irony."

Just before supper that afternoon, as Lilith passed through the upstairs hall humming one of Sheba's songs, Irene called to her. "Come in here a moment, will you?"

She came, an ironic amusement in her glance, a flicker of scorn on her face, as if she well understood what was coming.

"Lilith, I hope you're not going to be selfish about this house party. If Roger wants Tina to go, why should you object?"

Her gaze was disingenuous, her voice courteous and low, as she replied: "Certainly she shall go, if she likes. I'll say nothing against it."

A stranger would have thought her a sweetly submissive daughter, but Irene longed to shake her.

The girl glanced at her wrist watch as if to indicate that she was impatient to be elsewhere... the platinum and diamond watch that Guinn had bought for her graduation present.

"Then will you tell Tina that you'd like her to go with you?" Her voice was quite, but determined. Lilith's sauve selfishness shouldn't thwart her in this matter.

"Yes, indeed. I'll go tell her now."

She turned toward Tina's room, but Irene felt a sick presentiment that the harm was already done, that Tina's hurt pride wouldn't let her go.

And so it proved. At the supper table Tina said, "Roger, I've decided that I'd better go back to the Summer session. So I can't go to your house party. I'm awfully sorry."

Roger was mystified and offended by her decision, but Irene thought she read a trace of relief in his glance. Lilith seconded his arguments, but Tina remained fixed in her resolve.

"If I take work this Summer, I can graduate next June instead of next year. I went the last two Summers, you know, and I had extra entrance credits. I've got it all worked out."

Her father protested, and the boys made outburst against losing her so soon. She deftly foiled her mother's arguments about the dangers of Summer work, and in the end she carried her point. But her eyes carefully avoided her mother's gaze.

She had to leave almost at once in order to begin the session in time to get credit, and so she was gone before Lilith left for the house party.

After Lilith had gone, with her gay new hats and frocks, and the house was quiet, Guinn said to Irene, as they sat alone on the porch one evening, "Why wouldn't Tina go with the others? Is she getting temperamental?"

Irene longed to shake him, now, but she controlled herself. "Because Lilith didn't want her," she said quietly. Her lips closed to keep back other, hotter speech.

"Irene, how can you say that? I heard her urge Tina to go."

"Yes, after she had hurt her feelings about it when the matter first came up. You didn't hear everything, you see."

He shook his head and his lips tightened stubbornly. "You imagine things, Irene."

"The trouble is that you make Lilith your idol. You shut your eyes and your ears tight, so that you don't see or hear anything that isn't favorable to her."

His face flushed with anger and he seemed on the point of saying something impetuous, but he controlled himself.

Irene rose quickly and went into the house, lest she say something that might cause bitterness. He was unconvinced . . . he was unconvincible.

She went out on the upstairs sleeping porch, where she could be alone and undisturbed for a few moments. It was too dark to dig in her garden now.

She sat humped on the edge of a cot and tried to think through the situation. Why was it that Lilith was so—so hateful—about Tina's going to the house party? Was it merely that she couldn't bear for any one to pay Tina any attention? She never would let her father, she wouldn't let Dan, and now Roger. Did she care anything about Roger?

Was it merely normal jealousy? Or, was it something deeper, more malicious? It was plain that Roger loved Lilith and would leap at the chance to marry her if she would have him. But would she think him good enough for her ambitions? What were her ambitions? No one better had appeared so far. . . . If Lilith didn't care to marry Roger himself, would she still keep him from thought of Tina? A jealous woman could be very vindictive.

Did Tina, by unlucky chance, care a little for Roger? How terrible that would be! Or was her hurt merely against the sister she had loved so devotedly? . . . Grown-up daughters were a problem.

Irene felt hurt and bewildered, as if the children had shut the doors of their personalties in her face. Not to know what her clear-eyed Tina was thinking and suffering! . . .

"When children are little, they walk on your toes. And when they're big they walk on your heart," Miss Mattie had once said.

THE REAL LINCOLN

THERE has been a more or less consistent effort in the last few years to "debunk" our idealized national heroes, and to get at the real human things beneath, says the Minneapolis Journal editorially. Popular interest has perhaps centered in the case of Washington, being stirred to violent protest by some things in Rupert Hughes' frank biography, but the more recent discussions of Lincoln have been moved by the same purpose.

It is hardly necessary to say that neither Washington nor Lincoln has suffered in the process. The more nearly we approach to an understanding of the actual lives of these great men, the more we appreciate the difficulties which they overcame and the service which they rendered to humanity. They were not demi-gods, but plain men, with a fair share of human weakness and liability to error. The fulsome idolatry with which a more sentimental generation looked upon them was as unwholesome as it was futile.

No one can read Carl Sandburg's magnificent Prairie Years and trace the growth of the awkward country lawyer into the statesman, without a greater reverence for Lincoln than the unctuous exaggerations of sentimental biographers and campaign orators ever awakened.

Yet it must not be forgotten that the true measure of any man is not to be found in the bare facts of his actual life. It is to be found rather in his impact upon the world, in the influence he exerts long after his work is finished and he himself has passed to his reward. The idealizing tendency of the human imagination after all seizes upon the salient features of its heroes, upon the only things in their personality which really count.

The foibles and human frailties which linked them to the common lot were but accidents. It was the will and purpose within them, the strength and tenacity, the clearness of vision and soundness of judgment in which they excelled their fellows, which lifted them above the crowd and made them leaders. When all has been said, Washington still was the Father of his Country, as Lincoln was its savior.

The real Lincoln was not the awkward lout, the country lawyer, the teller of questionable stories, but rather the patient, kindly, deep-hearted man whose mind, working slowly at times, still had power to grasp the essential issues of the irrepressible conflict; whose will was strong enough to give mastery, in the end, of the really big men in his Cabinet; whose heart was big enough to take the South as well as the North into his sympathies; whose patient strength kept him steady and unbreakable under the long burden of the struggle; whose character and personality loom the higher above the greatest of his contemporaries the farther we recede from him.

It is not an accident that the imagination of later times has found in him the ideal of American democracy; in a far truer sense than Pitt, "the Great Commoner," and, taken all in all, what Lowell declared him, "The First American."

A "WHITE ELEPHANT" STORY REFUTED

IN a recent issue of a St. Cloud paper there is quoted an article that appeared there in 40 years ago, stating:

"Brainerd has a white elephant on its hands. It is white because it is arc light. The city bought the electric light plant and assumed the $40,000 debt thereon. An incandescent dynamo was then put in and other improvements made to the extent of $18,000, the whole costing $58,000. It will cost about $10,000 besides interest on the bonds to operate the works. The income is about $6,000. Interest is due, but there is no money to pay it. Hence the arc light elephant."

Then, presto, note the change.

Today Brainerd has an up-to-date electric distributing system free from debt of any kind. It has been the means of making permanent improvements in the water plant of nearly $300,000 during the past eight years and that on a rate very much less than the citizens of St. Cloud have been paying to an outside company, and who are still contributing to this corporation.

She went out on the upstairs sleeping porch, where she could be alone and undisturbed for a few moments. It was too dark to dig in her garden now.

She sat humped on the edge of a cot and tried to think through the situation. Why was it that Lilith was so—so hateful—about Tina's going to the house party? Was it merely that she couldn't bear for any one to pay Tina any attention? She never would let her father, she wouldn't let Dan, and now Roger. Did she care anything about Roger?

Was it merely normal jealousy? Or, was it something deeper, more malicious? It was plain that Roger loved Lilith and would leap at the chance to marry her if she would have him. But would she think him good enough for her ambitions? What were her ambitions? No one better had appeared so far. . . . If Lilith didn't care to marry Roger himself, would she still keep him from thought of Tina? A jealous woman could be very vindictive.

Did Tina, by unlucky chance, care a little for Roger? How terrible that would be! Or was her hurt merely against the sister she had loved so devotedly? . . . Grown-up daughters were a problem.

Irene felt hurt and bewildered, as if the children had shut the doors of their personalties in her face. Not to know what her clear-eyed Tina was thinking and suffering! . . .

"When children are little, they walk on your toes. And when they're big they walk on your heart," Miss Mattie had once said.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

THESE new 1929 models contain Philco's own radio discovery—Neutrodyne-Plus—which has thrilled the radio world with its startling performance.

Vast Distance Range

Philco has brought distance back into its own. Super-power is the secret; power to break through interference; power to reach out and bring in distance at volume you can enjoy!

Split-Hair Selectivity

Powerful stations confined to narrow limits on the dial. A hair's breadth turn often tunes out one station completely and brings another booming in. Sharp—clear—no "groping."

Flawless Tone

High notes, pure and clear; low notes rendered in their true proportion—an actual RE-production of the tones before the microphone.

Now—Greater Than Ever!

And now, greater power than ever, and even sharper tuning! Distance range that is nothing short of amazing! And startlingly true to life!

An Astounding Value

And then—most surprising of all—this superb quality Philco is available at a price of only $157 in an exquisite, full-length Console Cabinet. Truly, the most remarkable value on the radio market today!

New Type Electro-Dynamic Speaker

Philco engineers have perfected the Dynamic Speaker. No more unnatural "boom, boom" to drown out the melody; no more blurred speech. High tones have been restored to their proper place, while preserving the pleasing background of the lows. Melodies are heard in proper proportion to the bass. Speech is wonderfully clear and distinct. Startlingly true to life! AND—tremendous volume without distortion.

Neutrodyne-Plus

Power, super-power—that's the secret of Neutrodyne-Plus, Philco's New Radio Discovery. The power to perform under the most difficult local conditions. This great power Philco engineers have added for the first time to Neutrodyne, famous for its pure, clear tone.

No Aerial Needed

Philco needs no aerial for local and many distant stations. All-electric—entirely dry. Range control cuts out local interference and separates distant stations. 8 tubes, including rectifier. Push-pull amplification. One dial control. Four condensers

COME IN . . . HEAR IT!

SUCCESS OF SHARKEY-STRIBLING FIGHT ASSURED

MEANS PERMANENT RETIREMEN OF DEMPSEY AS FIGHTING MAN

NOW SAID THAT FORMER CHAMPION WILL NEVER ENTER RING AGAIN

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 11.—(U.P.)—The success of the Sharkey-Stribling fight from a financial viewpoint—a success now assured beyond doubt—means something of even greater importance to the world of sport, the permanent retirement of Jack Dempsey as a fighting man.

The former champion will never enter the ring again. Dempsey has made his mark as a promoter and his next job will be in that capacity for the Madison Square Garden corporation.

The amazing development of Dempsey—the metamorphosis of the man from Manassa—has no parallel in the annals of sport. It is a far cry from the grimy hobo to the energetic, polished business man who is the center of interest at Miami Beach these days.

Until the success of the present venture was assured, the exchampion's future was in doubt. If he hadn't measured up to the exacting specifications of his task here, Dempsey might have been driven back to the ring, probably to be beaten by some younger man.

To those who know Jack Dempsey in his fighting days, when his chosen companions were the parasites of pugilism, the spectacle of Dempsey, the promoter, is a constant source of wonderment. The millionaires are working and playing with the exchampion here and their wives who are vying for his attendance at their social affairs.

It is difficult to portray the new Dempsey adequately. Dempsey as a business man, working out the complicated problems involved in the promotion of the forthcoming bout.

Radio talks, business conferences, public appearances, dressy dinners, family parties, flying trips across the peninsula in the interests of the fight, these make up Jack's busy days.

But it is in his intimate contacts with the men of solid financial worth that he has scored his most important succes.

And so the prize ring is to lose its most colorful figure of modern times. Dempsey is going on to bigger things.

---

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 11.—(U.P.)—Ticket sales for the Jack Sharkey-Young Stribling fight here Feb. 27 are averaging $15,000 a day, according to figures furnished the United Press by Jack Dempsey.

With more than $200,000 in cash on hand and, 16 days remaining before the fight, Dempsey said today the fight would make money.

The demand at present is for the $25 ringside seats and these will be gone before the end of the week unless William F. Carey decides to move raised stands back farther and float them on pontoons in Biscayne bay.

PRESTON JUMPS 114 FEET, FLAATA 68 IN SKI TOURNAMENT

BRAINERD SKIERS DO WELL IN NORTHWEST SKI MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS

RED WING SKIER MAKES LEAP OF 124 FEET TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Jacob Preston and Harold Flaata, Brainerd skiers, jumped 114 feet and 68 feet respectively in senior and junior divisions of the Northwest Ski Meet at Glenwood Park, Minneapolis yesterday.

The Brainerd skiers did good considering the little opportunity they have had in practicing on ski jumps.

Conrad Tinseth won the junior division with a jump of 77 feet in the morning.

The northwest ski championship went to Halvor Bjorngaard of Red Wing who jumped 124 feet as his best in the afternoon. He won the class A event.

John Koscielak of Duluth who won the class B event jumped 130 feet as the longest hop of the afternoon.

Twenty thousand people cheered the events.

Spills were frequent although the day passed without serious mishap.

The Brainerd skiers showed good form in the slide, takeoff, leap and landing.

Battle for Honor Post

Spirited competition is being staged between Newt Butler, bottom, of West Branch, Iowa, who whipped Mr. Hoover in boyhood fist fight, and J. W. Reeder, top, of Tipton, Iowa, for the honor of holding Mr. Hoover's hat at the inaugural ceremony at Washington, D. C. (International Newsreel)

ZIERTEN, MACHO ROLL 1,335 AT BOWLING MEET

TWO MAN FEAT ACCOMPLISHED ONLY THREE TIMES IN 21 YEARS OF TOURNAMENT

ZIERTEN TOPPLED OVER 708 PINS AND MACHO 627 FOR ASTOUNDING TOTAL

Minneapolis, Feb. 11.—(U.P.)—One of the best bowling performances ever witnessed in Twin City alleys today had placed A. Zierten and F. Macho, St. Cloud on the top of the two-men events at the International Bowling association tournament.

The Zierten-Macho team bowled over 1,335 pins during their appearance late Sunday, a feat accomplished only three times in the 21 years of the tournament. The score of the Granite city team was only seven pins less than the all-time record established in St. Paul last year by the Ritter-Urban team of Chicago.

Zierten toppled over 708 pins and Macho 627 to amass the astounding total.

Frank Herkel, Minneapolis, with a score of 652, continued to lead the one man event and the Northern States Power team, Eau Claire, held the leadership in the five-men event with a score of 2,920.

Three Red Wing men and one Faribault man were among the first ten in the singles. They were: H. Tiedman, Red Wing, fourth, 621; P. Bartlette, Faribault, fifth, 620; H. Adolf, Red Wing Seventh, 612, and F. Nagel, Red Wing, tenth, 607.

O. Olson and P. Bartlette, Faribault held third place in the two men events with a score of 1,185.

Among the leaders in the five-men events were: Harvey Hotel, Faribault, second, 2,805, and Raymond brothers, St. Cloud, third, 2,788.

BOSTON RED SOX HAVE 22 PLAYERS

TEAM AND MANAGEMENT INDULGING IN HIGH HOPES

DISPOSED OF ALL BUT 13 MEMBERS OF LAST YEAR'S OUTFIT

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 11.—The Boston Red Sox have 22 new players and a lot of high hopes.

Discarding and disposing of all but 13 members of last year's team, Bill Carrigan will present a greatly revised line-up when the Red Sox take the field for the opening game April 16.

The biggest deal made by the Red Sox sent Buddy Myer, brilliant third baseman, to Washington in exchange for Pitcher Milton Gaston, Pitcher Horace Lisenbee, Infielders Robert Reeves and Grant Gillis and Outfielder Elliott Bigelow.

These five players and the numerous others culled by every known method should bolster the Red Sox in their efforts to get out of the cellar.

The pitching staff looks rather shaky. Six men are counted as regulars, Ed Morris, Charley Ruffing, Jack Russell, Danny MacFayden, Pat Simmons and Milt Gaston, all righthanders. Lisenbee, a southpaw who won 8 games and lost 6 for Minneapolis, should prove a winner if he regains his 1927 form when with the Senators.

Among the other pitching prospects are Billy Bayne, a former Cleveland southpaw; Ed Durham, who won 17 games and lost 11 for the Jackson, Miss., Cotton States League club; Frank Bushey, recalled from Brockton, where he won 12 games and lost 10; Benny Frey, who won 13 games and lost 15 for Nashville, and Ed Carroll, who won six games and lost six for Haverhill in the Eastern Shore League.

Morris, who won 19 games and lost 15 last season, is regarded as one of the best pitchers in the majors and would bring $100,000 if the Red Sox would part with him. He has been pitching winter baseball in the Canal Zone League.

Three new catchers have been added to Charley Berry, the former All-America football player with LaFayette, and John Heving. They are Alex Gaston, former major leaguer, who batted .275 for St. Paul; Bobby Asbjornson, who batted .328 for Akron; and Eddie Connolly, who batted .279 for Pittsfield.

The infield is uncertain, but the wealth of materjal should help to strengthen it. Phil Todt is regarded as a certainty at first base. Bill Regan will have to battle with Bob Barrett and Jerry Standaert for second base.

Barrett and Standaert, formerly up with Brooklyn, are both hard-hitters. Barrett batted .310 for Buffalo last season and Standaert batted .358 for Memphis.

Wally Gerber, the veteran shortstop, will have competition from Gillis, Reeves and Hal Rhyne, formerly with the Pittsburgh Pirates, for his position. Rhyne batted .310 for San Francisco last season, and was purchased from the Athletics after he had been drafted.

Standaert and Reeves may be shifted to third base to fight it out for that place. A guess at the infield would place Todt at first, Regan at second, Rhyne or Gillis at short, and Reeves at third.

Carrigan has eight outfielders, including last year's regulars, Ken Williams, Ira Flagstead, Doug Taitt and Jack Rothrock. The new men are Bill Scaritt, who batted .354 for St. Paul; Bigelow, who batted .395 for Birmingham; Otto Dumas, who batted .343 for Mobile; and George Loepp, who batted .309 for Pittsfield. Scarritt and Bigelow look like real finds.

The Red Sox' probable roster will include:

Catchers—Berry, Heving and Alex Gaston.

Pitchers—Morris, MacFayden, Ruffing, Russell, Milt Gaston, Lisenbee, Bayne, Simmons, Durham, Frey.

Infield—Todt at first, Regan at second, Rhyne or Gillis at short, Reeves or Standaert at third; Gerber, Barrett, reserves.

Outfield — Williams, Flagstead, Rothrock, Taitt, Scarritt, Bigelow.

BRAINERD PUCK MEN WHITEWASH LITTLE FALLS SEXTET, 8 TO 0

GABIOU IS HEAVY SCORER, FINDS LITTLE FALLS NET FOR FOUR GOALS

FOX PLAYS STELLAR GAME IN HEMP; GAME BOOKED WITH ST. CLOUD

The Brainerd Red Devils downed the Little Falls team yesterday afternoon at Little Falls by the score of 8 to 0 in a one-sided hockey game.

Gabiou scored heavily for Brainerd, sinking four into the Little Falls hemp. Lester Creger shot the gypsum into the down river team's net for two and Rofidal and Molstad each scored one. Fox continued his good work in the nets, contributing largely to Brainerd's victory.

Both teams were handicapped by the small rink.

A return game will be payed here February 22 at the rink behind the court house.

The Brainerd team will journey to St. Cloud next Sunday for a game with St. Cloud Tech-high.

The line-up for yesterday's game follows: Brainerd — McIntosh, rw; Rofidal, captain, lw; Lester Creger, c; Gabiou and Lyle Creger, defense; Fox, goal. Subs—Molstad and Lukens.

Little Falls — Lundquist, rw; Baule, lw; Brusseau, c; Hanson, Gerrotz, defense; Tidd, goal. Sub — Eastine.

New York, Feb. 11.—(U.P.)—Kinrey Matsuyama of Japan, nicknamed "the mighty atom of the billiard world" because of his unbeatable play thus far in the world's championship 18.2 balkline billiard tournament, will face his crucial test tonight when he meets Welker Cochran of California.

The tiny Oriental, who weighs only 92 pounds, has won his three matches and holds undisputed lead. Cochran and Jake Schaefer of Chicago are tied for second with two victories and one defeat each.

Cichran was a 5 to 4 favorite to defeat Matsuyama and Schaefer is a favorite to win the tournament.

PRESTON JUMPS 114 FEET, FLAATA 68 IN SKI TOURNAMENT

BRAINERD SKIERS DO WELL IN NORTHWEST SKI MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS

RED WING SKIER MAKES LEAP OF 124 FEET TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Jacob Preston and Harold Flaata, Brainerd skiers, jumped 114 feet and 68 feet respectively in senior and junior divisions of the Northwest Ski Meet at Glenwood Park, Minneapolis yesterday.

The Brainerd skiers did good considering the little opportunity they have had in practicing on ski jumps.

Conrad Tinseth won the junior division with a jump of 77 feet in the morning.

The northwest ski championship went to Halvor Bjorngaard of Red Wing who jumped 124 feet as his best in the afternoon. He won the class A event.

John Koscielak of Duluth who won the class B event jumped 130 feet as the longest hop of the afternoon.

Twenty thousand people cheered the events.

Spills were frequent although the day passed without serious mishap.

The Brainerd skiers showed good form in the slide, takeoff, leap and landing.

Battle for Honor Post

Spirited competition is being staged between Newt Butler, bottom, of West Branch, Iowa, who whipped Mr. Hoover in boyhood fist fight, and J. W. Reeder, top, of Tipton, Iowa, for the honor of holding Mr. Hoover's hat at the inaugural ceremony at Washington, D. C. (International Newsreel)

ZIERTEN, MACHO ROLL 1,335 AT BOWLING MEET

TWO MAN FEAT ACCOMPLISHED ONLY THREE TIMES IN 21 YEARS OF TOURNAMENT

ZIERTEN TOPPLED OVER 708 PINS AND MACHO 627 FOR ASTOUNDING TOTAL

Minneapolis, Feb. 11.—(U.P.)—One of the best bowling performances ever witnessed in Twin City alleys today had placed A. Zierten and F. Macho, St. Cloud on the top of the two-men events at the International Bowling association tournament.

The Zierten-Macho team bowled over 1,335 pins during their appearance late Sunday, a feat accomplished only three times in the 21 years of the tournament. The score of the Granite city team was only seven pins less than the all-time record established in St. Paul last year by the Ritter-Urban team of Chicago.

Zierten toppled over 708 pins and Macho 627 to amass the astounding total.

Frank Herkel, Minneapolis, with a score of 652, continued to lead the one man event and the Northern States Power team, Eau Claire, held the leadership in the five-men event with a score of 2,920.

Three Red Wing men and one Faribault man were among the first ten in the singles. They were: H. Tiedman, Red Wing, fourth, 621; P. Bartlette, Faribault, fifth, 620; H. Adolf, Red Wing Seventh, 612, and F. Nagel, Red Wing, tenth, 607.

O. Olson and P. Bartlette, Faribault held third place in the two men events with a score of 1,185.

Among the leaders in the five-men events were: Harvey Hotel, Faribault, second, 2,805, and Raymond brothers, St. Cloud, third, 2,788.

BOSTON RED SOX HAVE 22 PLAYERS

TEAM AND MANAGEMENT INDULGING IN HIGH HOPES

DISPOSED OF ALL BUT 13 MEMBERS OF LAST YEAR'S OUTFIT

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 11.—The Boston Red Sox have 22 new players and a lot of high hopes.

Discarding and disposing of all but 13 members of last year's team, Bill Carrigan will present a greatly revised line-up when the Red Sox take the field for the opening game April 16.

The biggest deal made by the Red Sox sent Buddy Myer, brilliant third baseman, to Washington in exchange for Pitcher Milton Gaston, Pitcher Horace Lisenbee, Infielders Robert Reeves and Grant Gillis and Outfielder Elliott Bigelow.

These five players and the numerous others culled by every known method should bolster the Red Sox in their efforts to get out of the cellar.

The pitching staff looks rather shaky. Six men are counted as regulars, Ed Morris, Charley Ruffing, Jack Russell, Danny MacFayden, Pat Simmons and Milt Gaston, all right-handers. Lisenbee, a southpaw who won 8 games and lost 6 for Minneapolis, should prove a winner if he regains his 1927 form when with the Senators.

Among the other pitching prospects are Billy Bayne, a former Cleveland southpaw; Ed Durham, who won 17 games and lost 11 for the Jackson, Miss., Cotton States League club; Frank Bushey, recalled from Brockton, where he won 12 games and lost 10; Benny Frey, who won 13 games and lost 15 for Nashville, and Ed Carroll, who won six games and lost six for Haverhill in the Eastern Shore League.

Morris, who won 19 games and lost 15 last season, is regarded as one of the best pitchers in the majors and would bring $100,000 if the Red Sox would part with him. He has been pitching winter baseball in the Canal Zone League.

Three new catchers have been added to Charley Berry, the former All-America football player with LaFayette, and John Heving. They are Alex Gaston, former major leaguer, who batted .275 for St. Paul; Bobby Asbjornson, who batted .328 for Akron; and Eddie Connolly, who batted .279 for Pittsfield.

The infield is uncertain, but the wealth of materjal should help to strengthen it. Phil Todt is regarded as a certainty at first base. Bill Regan will have to battle with Bob Barrett and Jerry Standaert for second base.

Barrett and Standaert, formerly up with Brooklyn, are both hard-hitters. Barrett batted .310 for Buffalo last season and Standaert batted .358 for Memphis.

Wally Gerber, the veteran shortstop, will have competition from Gillis, Reeves and Hal Rhyne, formerly with the Pittsburgh Pirates, for his position. Rhyne batted .310 for San Francisco last season, and was purchased from the Athletics after he had been drafted.

Standaert and Reeves may be shifted to third base to fight it out for that place. A guess at the infield would place Todt at first, Regan at second, Rhyne or Gillis at short, and Reeves at third.

Carrigan has eight outfielders, including last year's regulars, Ken Williams, Ira Flagstead, Doug Taitt and Jack Rothrock. The new men are Bill Scaritt, who batted .354 for St. Paul; Bigelow, who batted .395 for Birmingham; Otto Dumas, who batted .343 for Mobile; and George Loepp, who batted .309 for Pittsfield. Scarritt and Bigelow look like real finds.

The Red Sox' probable roster will include:

Catchers—Berry, Heving and Alex Gaston.

Pitchers—Morris, MacFayden, Ruffing, Russell, Milt Gaston, Lisenbee, Bayne, Simmons, Durham, Frey.

Infield—Todt at first, Regan at second, Rhyne or Gillis at short, Reeves or Standaert at third; Gerber, Barrett, reserves.

Outfield — Williams, Flagstead, Rothrock, Taitt, Scarritt, Bigelow.

BRAINERD PUCK MEN WHITEWASH LITTLE FALLS SEXTET, 8 TO 0

GABIOU IS HEAVY SCORER, FINDS LITTLE FALLS NET FOR FOUR GOALS

FOX PLAYS STELLAR GAME IN HEMP; GAME BOOKED WITH ST. CLOUD

The Brainerd Red Devils downed the Little Falls team yesterday afternoon at Little Falls by the score of 8 to 0 in a one-sided hockey game.

Gabiou scored heavily for Brainerd, sinking four into the Little Falls hemp. Lester Creger shot the gypsum into the down river team's net for two and Rofidal and Molstad each scored one. Fox continued his good work in the nets, contributing largely to Brainerd's victory.

Both teams were handicapped by the small rink.

A return game will be payed here February 22 at the rink behind the court house.

The Brainerd team will journey to St. Cloud next Sunday for a game with St. Cloud Tech-high.

The line-up for yesterday's game follows: Brainerd — McIntosh, rw; Rofidal, captain, lw; Lester Creger, c; Gabiou and Lyle Creger, defense; Fox, goal. Subs—Molstad and Lukens.

Little Falls — Lundquist, rw; Baule, lw; Brusseau, c; Hanson, Gerrotz, defense; Tidd, goal. Sub — Eastine.
